Presentation – Louisa County Landfill

Mr. Chris Coon presented an update on the Louisa County Landfill, summarizing:

The landfill averages 22,000 tons of waste annually, with 4.6% year-over-year growth. With current expansion plans, the landfill has approximately 34 years of capacity remaining under projected growth. Regulatory planning and land acquisition must begin by 2035 to meet a 2040 permitting deadline for future capacity. Staff are exploring incineration and other alternatives for long-term waste management.

Mr. Coon noted that staff are proactively preparing for regulatory and capacity challenges.

NEW BUSINESS/ACTION ITEMS

Resolution – Supporting Cuckoo Elementary School for Inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places

Mr. Coon noted the Cuckoo Elementary School, located at 7133 Jefferson Highway in Louisa County, Virginia, is a rare surviving example of a two-room African American schoolhouse constructed in 1925. The Cuckoo School served grades one through seven and played a critical role in the education of Black students in rural Louisa County during the era of racial segregation until its closure in 1955. The school retains a high degree of historic integrity, including original design, materials, setting, and association, and continues to embody the vernacular architectural features and construction methods characteristic of early twentieth-century rural African American schoolhouses. The school is locally significant under National Register Criterion A in the areas of Education and Ethnic Heritage: Black, for its association with Black history, culture, and the development of public education in Virginia during the segregation era. The nomination for the Cuckoo Elementary School is being considered under the “African American Schools in Virginia” Multiple Property Documentation Form, and it meets the established registration requirements for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. Inclusion in the National Register is an honorary designation that recognizes the historical and cultural value of a property and encourages its preservation for future generations.

On the motion of Mr. Barnes, seconded by Mr. McCotter, which carried by a vote of 7-0, the Board provided their full support for the nomination of the Cuckoo Elementary School for listing in the National Register of Historic Places and the Virginia Landmarks Register.
