3. APPROVAL OF DRAFT MINUTES FROM JULY 26, 2022 (MINUTE 2:50):

Motion/Action: Lucinda noted that JM's last name was misspelled and it has been corrected. Mr. Egeland made motion to approve minutes with the correct spelling. Mr. McDermott seconded to motion and the motion passed unanimously.

4. PAVING RURAL ROADS (MINUTE 3:42):

Peter Krebs, Piedmont Environmental Council (PEC), introduced himself to the group and presented to the committee on paving rural roads. He noted that the PEC is known as an anti-sprawl organization and preserving the rural way of life. He also runs Piedmont Mobility Alliance. During their Spring meeting, the Weldon Preservation Conservation Coalition gave a presentation on how Loudoun County is handling the balance between rural and urban areas. He came to this meeting to share their ideas from that meeting.

In Loudoun, reasons for not paving roads include protecting a rural way of life, controlling speed, limiting growth and development, preserving scenic value, increasing health and recreational value, and embodying significant economic resource, if handled intentionally. Loudoun urges VDOT and their Board of Supervisors to seriously consider not paving roads if at all possible. They encourage the public to get involved in expressing their opinions as well.

VDOT's mandate is to not pave rural roads, but to improve them, which does not necessarily mean paving.

Mr. Krebs noted that there are conflicts among rural road users – cyclists, pedestrians, equestrians, etc. They include safety, site line issues, parking, sharing the road, and the idea that the resource is a fragile one that can go away for a number of different reasons.

Mr. McDermott said there is still some indecisiveness about which roads to pave or not in this area. He noted that in Loudoun County there are 250 miles of unpaved roads, and Albemarle County has a much smaller percentage of unpaved roads.

Mr. Krebs said one solution is to change the aggregate mix to increase the longevity of the road. One of the metrics Loudoun has is to think about a route of significance and whether it's part of its rural cultural experience. Mr. Krebs noted that the 250 miles of unpaved roads are actively being defended by residents of those roads.

Carrie Shepherd said she is trying to find out if money that has been designated to pave gravel roads has a "use it or lose it" tag. The money can be built up over years, but it still has to be used for paving, Mr. McDermott asked if it could be used for maintenance instead of paving.

There was discussion about whether an unpaved road funds unused money could be moved to a paved roads fund to maintain it.

The committee members continued to discuss the benefits of keeping unpaid roads

5. OFFICE OF INTERMODAL PLANNING AND INVESTMENT (OIPI) GROWTH AND ACCESSIBILITY PLANNING TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE GRANT (MINUTE 41:33):

Sandy Shackelford presented information on the OIPI Growth and Accessibility Planning Technical Assistance Grant. She discussed the components, goals, types of assistance for local governments, and application details to see if any one of the committee members might be interested in applying.

Two large projects asking VDOT to review before planning commission. He also reported that the county hired a planning associate, .

The noted that there will be many implications for rural areas. He also reported that they made an application for the RAISE grant and was successful.

Rideshare - Sara Pennington reported that Rideshare is hosting “Discover Transit month” in September and “Rideshare month” in October. She also noted that Park and Ride inventories happen in September.

Fluvanna County - Douglas Miles reported that Fluvanna has been active with their first utility solar project. The company bought property where there is no access off a main road. Accessory solar and rooftop solar will be most desirable because Fluvanna is the second smallest land mass in the TJPDC. RRBC is doing a conference on the 25th at the Lewis and Clark Exploratory Center. He also reported that the Main Street TAP grant has begun.

Fluvanna County - JM Whalen reported that in addition to the solar projects, there are several projects they are working on, including Smart Scale, their comp plan, and a TAP grant.

Louisa County - Tom Egeland reported that he is speaking at conference next week on solar re: lessons learned etc. He invited others who have questions about solar projects to asked both him and Douglas Miles about their experience.
